

My Invention

By Cadhla Barry

If I were to make any Invention would be a human bubble that when you get in all you have to do is press a button to inflate it.

When you go in it no viruses can get to you and if you do have a virus like Covid 19 or if you are just sick it will automatically make you better.

If you want to do work from a screen when you go in a screen will project on the bubble and it will help you with your homework and if you buy my owner chip you can put any information about yourself on the chip and plug it into the bubble the information will download onto your brain.

If you go into the bubble and say “sleep mode” it will give you a blanket and pillow and read you a story or play soothing music until you get to sleep.

If you get thirsty or hungry you say what food or drink you want and it will appear in your hand. For example I say “Cookies and hot chocolate” a plate of cookies and a cup of hot chocolate would appear in my hand.
